

AgIntegrated, Inc. Acquires Skyward App Company

Skyward enables AgIntegrated to rapidly expand its mobile smartphone and tablet presence in the agricultural industry.

STATE COLLEGE, PA, Friday, July 8, 2011 – AgIntegrated, Inc. today announced the acquisition of Skyward App Company, a Maryland based software development firm specializing in smartphone, tablet, desktop, and cloud-based applications.

“The increased adoption rate of smartphones and tablets within our industry creates a need for a mobile platform to manage operations and communicate data more effectively,” said Mike Santostefano, Marketing Director for AgIntegrated. “Skyward’s unique ability to create interactive applications and data driven solutions provides AgIntegrated with the experience to deliver visually appealing and effective applications to meet the demands of a mobile agricultural industry.”

"Skyward is experienced in the development of a wide range of applications focusing on client-driven functionality. This allows us to be flexible enough to tackle the ever expanding and evolving field of mobile and cloud development, while continuing to utilize market-proven technologies." said Nick Elliott, Founder of Skyward. "The acquisition will allow us to expand these services, creating new and powerful solutions without sacrificing the reliability we are already known for."

With this acquisition, Skyward becomes a wholly owned subsidiary of AgIntegrated.

Skyward Apps Company designs, develops and maintains high-profile, high-velocity software solutions across a wide range of markets. Skyward’s team worked with major software developers, operating system giants, networking companies, mobile app developers, and weather industry leaders. From robust data services to high-performance video gaming, our diverse portfolio demonstrates the capabilities needed to tackle the evolving field of software application design and development.
